Thomas Bruzzese - the founder of Supreme Dairy Farms - learned the art of cheese-making from one of the cheese-making centers of the world, Calabria, in his native Italy before immigrating to the US. By 1932, Thomas Bruzzese had saved enough money to found an Italian cheese-making firm in Providence, Rhode Island.

It's risky to start a business at any time, but to start one in 1932, in the depths of the worst Depression, was an act of courage and unusual confidence in the future. But start the business Thomas Bruzzese did - he made it work and work well. Supreme remained in the hands of the Bruzesse family with Thomas' two sons, Vincent and Salvatore, from 1950 through 2006.

Through the 21st century, Supreme's reputation for offering the finest quality Italian cheeses and related products has continued..and, more recently, expanded to serving local restaurants with our premier Supreme products. With our specialty in Italian food products, we have proudly served local pizzerias & restaurants using our same cornerstone of quality and freshness.

For over 75 years, Supreme Dairy Farms has been a part of family meals for generations, providing the best, freshest ingredients to your family's table. Originally headquartered in Warwick and now in Woonsocket RI, we enjoy a rich history serving Southern New England's families, restaurants and pizzerias. Our signature retail cheeses - Whole Milk and Part Skim Ricotta, Shredded Mozzarella and Cheddar - can be found in neighborhood groceries and markets - perfect for the everyday and special occasion holiday cooking!
